How Am I Not Myself?

I Heart Huckabees ~ The Movie

Part One June 2005 Celestial Timings by Gael Chilson

The other night as I watched "Neverland," a movie about the author of "Peter Pan," I was taken with the theme which fits Uranus in Pisces so well – we are creating our world with our beliefs. Are you enjoying your reality? Clap if you believe in fairies . . . Let's play!

June Sky Events

The most spectacular event in the night sky this month happens in the last week of June. On Saturday, June 25th Venus-Mercury-Saturn form a compact trio fitting within a 1.5 degree field. Saturn is 1.3 degrees to the lower left of Venus and Mercury is 0.5 degrees left of Venus. All three planets appear to be nearly touching. (A trio, as defined by astronomical author Jean Meeus, is a gathering of three planets within a field no larger than 5 degrees across) Mercury is found within 1 degree of Venus from June 24 to July 1, forming an extremely close pair on June 27. This will be a striking visual in the early evening sky about an hour after sunset with unobscured low western horizon. For those who are interested in connecting with the sky watching these three planets this month will be quite a treat. Mercury doesn't really emerge into the picture until the second week of June becoming more easily visible around June 15. The next visible planetary trio occurs Dec 10, 2006 when Mercury Mars and Jupiter will fit into a field one degree across gathering low in mid-twilight. This 2006 trio will not be as easily observed. It will be Aug 7, 2010 before we have another clearly visible trio after Sunset when Venus Mars and Saturn fit into a 5 degree field. June 1, Wednesday. Today Mercury trines Jupiter while the waning last quarter Moon in Aries opposes Jupiter. Expansive informative insights are possible today especially when we are asking for them. Some questions worth considering are: In what way do my beliefs, so easily spoken, belie an emotionally headstrong and opinionated child within? Have I thought about the effect of those words on my dearly beloved or do I even care? Jupiter in Libra, almost stationary now, has given us much time to appreciate where our beliefs separate us from each other, perhaps also, how they bring us together. How can we stay true to ourselves and our beliefs and yet not only tolerate but appreciate another's differing belief system and point of view?

June 2, Thursday. The essential ingredients for a powerful catharsis are available today with Mercury in Gemini squaring Uranus in Pisces and Mars in Pisces squaring Pluto in Sagittarius. The first aspect, at 2:17 a.m. PDT, may activate an unsettling night with odd dreams. Everything seems so out of control we may want to exert force as Mars squares Pluto at 12:26 p.m. PDT. Where are those beliefs of ours taking us now? Today could bring a break-through in understanding if given enough perspective. The violet flame is a helpful tool for dealing with emotionally charged situations. The idea is to flood the situation and all those associated with violet fire, transmuting all negativity through the power of forgiveness. The following affirmation comes from Ascended and Free, Vol. II, No. V

Transmute, transmute with violet fire, (Violet Fire being the union of Love and Power, brought into full Force by a Being of Divine Intent)

All causes and cores not of God's desires. (I AM this Being of Divine Intent addressing God's Energy, Vibration and Consciousness still trapped in ego manifestation). Note from Carolyn: Personally, I would relanguage this using principles of conscious language focusing on the intent: Fully aligned with God's desire

I am a being of cause! ... alone!

(We reaffirm the Divine process of creation, focused only on Cause, trusting the world effects to the Divine Plan, the Holy Christ Flame in all life).

The cause is love, the sacred tone!

(Through the Cohesive Power of Divine Love uniting all life in her Ascended State.)"

Revised Affirmation reads:

Transmute, transmute with violet fire

Fully aligned with God's desire

I am a being of cause! ... alone!

The cause is love, the sacred tone!

June 3, Friday. At 2:12 am PDT Mercury is conjunct the Sun on the other side farthest away from Earth. When Mercury cycles behind the Sun in it's Psychopomp stage, it is symbolically guiding souls to and from the underworld. This is the place Venus has just returned from in early May. At 8:18 am PDT Venus enters Cancer, the domain of family, roots and nurturing. With the Moon in Taurus all day today, and Venus in Cancer our thoughts may center around providing nourishment in ways that appeal to the senses. It's a good night to enjoy being with the family around the dinner table.

June 4, Saturday. Mars (25 Pisces) trines Saturn (25 Cancer) at 2:44 pm PDT fueling our desire to accomplish what we have set out to do and providing the dynamic energy that easily accomplishes the tasks at hand.

June 5, Sunday. If you're up before dawn you might catch a glimpse of the tiny crescent balsamic Moon near the Pleiades (located on the shoulder of the Bull) currently gathering wisdom from this starry cluster as the Moon prepares for a new phase tomorrow. Mythology abounds with stories about the Pleiades also known as the seven sisters in Greek myth who were the daughters of Atlas and Electra. Their names were Maia, Taygete, Alcyone, Merope, Celaeno, and Sterope who were placed in the heavens to escape Orion though he still pursues them. Richard Allen's book, Star Names sites many varied references to the Pleiades as: rosette of diamonds, golden bees, necklace, Pearl Rosette (as a seal of immortality), a silken sash decked with gems, a cluster or heap, and a Kimah (a Hebrew name for the Pleiades and blueprint for this universe. According to The Keys of Enoch the star codes from Kimah form the dimensions of the biochemical rhythm of the atomic nucleus as described in Job 38:31 and Key 106). It might be worthwhile to pause this morning reflecting on what message the Moon is bringing us from the Pleiades. We can choose to enliven new visions that more positively reflect what we are creating, or allow new perspectives to fill our consciousness as we ponder what we are seeding for the next 29 and ½ day Moon cycle.

June 6, Monday. The new Moon (17 Gemini) today is exact at 2:55 p.m. PDT activating the Sabian Symbol described as... "THE HEAD OF A ROBUST YOUTH CHANGES INTO THAT OF A MATURE THINKER. Keynote: The transformation of physical vitality into the power to build concepts and intellectual formulations through which knowledge can be transferred.... What we see pictured is the transformation of emotions into mind, of instincts into thoughts – a process of Mental Metamorphosis." (taken from Dane Rudyard's An Astrological Mandala)

It is worth noticing how this theme is developed over the next two weeks as we prepare for the Sun's passage over the summer solstice point concurrent with the next full Moon. This new Moon is only one degree away from last year's June 8 Sun Venus conjunction and rare Venus transit over the face of the Sun. (See June 2004 Celestial Timings Archives) Perhaps this new Moon will help us ground the transmissions generated by that potent activation. As we grow in understanding we grow in the ability to be the best we can imagine, disciplining our emotions and our instinctual natures, with Universal Love and Divine Will assisting us in the process. This new Moon further activates the Sun/Neptune trine encouraging the easy flow of inspiration.

June 7, Tuesday. The Moon enters Cancer at 5:46 p.m. today, crossing the center of the Sacred Hoop and energizing the upcoming Solstice Point. Look for the very thin crescent of the moon just after sunset approaching bright evening star Venus. Also today Mercury opposes Pluto inspiring us to ask; "What beliefs do I still use to manipulate others to my advantage or where do I allow others to push my buttons with the words they use? Am I truly conscious of the words I use when speaking to others or are they simply what I've learned and use without question? Do my words condition my actions and behavior? Am I sabotaging my ability to change into the person I want to be simply because of my poor choice of words? What am I saying to myself? Can I observe my mind at work without rendering judgment or criticism? Can I practice pure love and acceptance with myself, let alone another?"

June 8, Wednesday. The Moon in Cancer is always a good time to take care of the family or work around the home. Rest, nurture yourself and others with simple acts of kindness. The Moon is located just above Venus right after sunset. Venus and the Moon meet symbolizing Inanna's passage through the first gate on her way from the underworld restoring her vibrant, vital life force energy (The story of Inanna is an ancient Sumerian myth describing the cosmological cycle of Venus). What is this life force portrayed by the sign of Cancer? Is it not nurtured in our emotional bodies through kindness and gratitude? Some say the only prayer we need ever say is one of thankfulness for all our needs are already known and answered before we even notice.

June 9, Thursday. The Moon still traveling through Cancer meets up with master Saturn tonight. The Moon is visible to the upper right of Saturn and is sitting between Saturn and the fixed star Pollux to the right of the Moon. Also after sunset Venus is visible near the right foot of the Twins near the Summer Solstice marker. So this really is a good day to take care of needed repairs around the home and care for family members even if the task is arduous, it may also be rewarding and easier than first imagined. It may help to remember patience and acceptance are linked to serenity.

June 10, Friday. The Moon moves into Leo this morning at 5:39 a.m. PDT and Mercury squares Mars and Venus squares Jupiter this afternoon potentially bringing lots of action, reaction and more action. This is another potent combination for taking the ego down a notch if it's the one in charge. This is a time for remembering to put our higher power in charge, surrendering to what is and making the best of it. We might even find ourselves transforming traffic jams into time for practicing the presence of God.

Venus and Jupiter are both visible in the night sky with Venus hanging out for at least an hour after sunset. Check it out – this is what a 90 degrees aspect looks like in the sky. This aspect with Venus and Jupiter is similar to the last quarter phase of the Moon. Venus met up with Jupiter in Libra on November 5, 2004 and the full Moon phase of this current cycle between Venus and Jupiter occurred on April 3rd when they reached opposition to each other. Over the past few months we have been learning about how our beliefs and ideas of self worth influence and effect our relationships? Could it be time to take what we have learned about valuing and nurturing so we can have a healthy relationship? Maybe it is time to check out what the other person really perceives is nurturing and not just what we think s/he should feel nurtured by. Are we really being thoughtful, loving and honest with ourselves and others?

June 11, Saturday. Three minutes past midnight Pacific Daylight Time Mercury enters Cancer. Whether asleep or awake we can tune into the mysteries and magic of this area of the ecliptic by being open to incoming transmissions, asking always that these come from divine Source in ways that are best for all concerned. We may discover ways to resolve the seeming duality of life as the messenger of the gods (Mercury) crosses this place where the ecliptic and the Milky Way intersect and the Summer Solstice is now located. Mars enters Aries at 7:29 pm PDT indicating that the hero who seemed lost in his dreams while in Pisces is now ready to take action and put those visions to the test.

June 12, Sunday. The Moon now in the sign of Virgo is located near Regulus tonight, the heart of the Lion. We may ponder the Virgo mysteries as the Virgin Priestess and grandmother spider, overlaying the constellation of the Lion, sovereign ruler of the jungle, a symbol of power to the ancient world. The heart of the Lion beats within the sign that would bring order out of the chaos through dedicated service to the whole. Venus trine Uranus today urges us to be creative in unique and innovate ways seeking unusual and inspiring company.

June 13, Monday. The Sun (23 Gemini) makes its annual opposition to Pluto (23 Sagittarius) while the Moon in Virgo opposes Uranus (11 Pisces). There's no rest for mutable signs today (or tomorrow either). Do our words obscure the truth or do those hidden truths come to light? Whatever we say can be monumental and powerful or just manipulative. There is no controlling what is going on, though. The more we try, the more out of control it gets until we let go and let God. Trust only in what you really know. Look to the light within.

June 14, Tuesday. Uranus (11 Pisces) stations retrograde hanging out within one degree for three months – May, June and July. Looking at this degree in Dane Rudyard's Astrological Mandala we are presented with the following image: "MEN TRAVELING A NARROW PATH, SEEKING ILLUMINATION. Keynote: The capacity inherent in every individual to seek at whatever cost entrance to a transcendent realm of reality. "This refers to the ancient and eternal symbol of the Path of Discipleship. The greatness of man is that he can always be greater; and the belief – deeply rooted in man’s inner nature – that if he fulfills the necessary conditions he can find ‘Elder Brothers’ who have already attained a higher level of consciousness and will transfer their attainment and light to him. The Path is always open to the pure in heart, the mentally aware, the conqueror of emotions and the spiritually self-mobilized....Man is always in the making and remaking. He can always go further, reach beyond. But he has to take the first step. Someone can show him the Path, but he alone can do the walking. Thus the Zen injunction: “WALK ON”.

The Moon further activates the Sun/Pluto opposition later today emphasizing the lessons we are working on from yesterday or perhaps providing more gut wrenching opportunities to realize what was more or less just theory yesterday.

June 15, Wednesday. The Moon enters Libra early this morning shifting our attention to Mercury (9 Cancer) squaring Jupiter (9 Libra). The course of events over the last few days may give us more than a little to talk about, especially with family members. Through his writings Emmet Fox encourages caution around sharing our inspirations or intentions to soon, lest we diminish the precious energy we have accumulated. Other spiritual texts refer to the dangers of gossip. It is often easy to talk about others – with great knowing about how they should or shouldn’t be while neglecting our own growth?

June 2005 Part Two

By Carolyn Brent

“The stone circles are gateways, at certain times, as are all earth’s edges --- mountaintops, caverns, the shore where sea meets land...” Lady of Avalon by Marion Zimmer Bradley

Jun 15, Wednesday. Moon moves into Libra about 6 am PDT occulting Jupiter at 11:31 pm PDT and Mercury squares Jupiter at 12:42 pm PDT. Moon will be visible near retrograde Jupiter tonight and just beyond Jupiter tomorrow night. Two more Moon Jupiter occultations are happening this year on Jul 13 and Aug 10. We have already had six Moon Jupiter occultations since January. This suggests expansive and far-reaching changes are occurring in the arena of partnership and relationship. The intent is to bring a powerful renewal of vision around how we consciously engage the mysteries of relationship. Are we listening to each other, to all sides, to all the parts of ourselves and our lives? What is our personal truth and how does that relate to those around us and their truth? Can we accept another person’s truth even if it differs from our own? How do we create new ways of relating that are honest, caring, and supportive? Occultations accelerate the unfolding mysteries quickly answering these questions when we are listening.

Jun 16, Thursday. The triple line up of Venus (16 Cancer) Mercury (11 Cancer) and Saturn (26 Cancer now beyond the outer rim of the Sacred Hoop) are moving closer together night by night with Venus and Mercury now only 5 degrees apart. By June 28 Venus and Mercury will be within 0.4 degrees or so close they may appear to be touching each other. Watching the western sky after Sunset from now until the end of the month gives us an opportunity to witness the movement of the transformational messenger Mercury catching up to the Goddess Venus. Also today Mercury (11 Cancer) trines Uranus (11 Pisces) where unexpected innovative insights may produce a shift in our current reality assemblage point for the purpose of supporting greater freedom of being.

Jun 17, Friday. Moon moves into Scorpio this afternoon transmitting the mysteries of death and rebirth, resurrection and renewal, and empowerment through the Shamanic Journey where we encounter our deepest fears for the purpose of transforming them into our greatest gifts. It is helpful to lovingly embrace these shadowed aspects and to feel the feelings associated with them in safe and healthy ways - such as various forms of movement and breathwork. This creates a space for powerful transformation when we surrender our attachments to outcome and align our will with divine will. In essence this is a form of personal sacrifice or the willingness “to make sacred” through surrender to the divine within us that may feel like its ripping out your insides in the process but ultimately it leads to greater empowerment.

Jun 18, Saturday. Mercury is making its annual conjunction with Sirius our brightest fixed star. Carefully designed astronomical alignments link Sirius with many ancient temples and sacred sites including the Great Pyramid. According to M. Temple Richmond’s book on Sirius it is “the Great Star of Initiation” giving this advice “Let us, therefore, enter humbly and reverentially into meditative contemplation of Sirius, the custodian of occult mystery, for in contemplating this great star-being, we encounter a sacred source of transcendence.”

Jun 19, Sunday. Happy Father’s Day. With the movement of the Moon into Sagittarius today it seems appropriate to explore the origins and meaning of Father’s Day. It was back in 1909 that Sonora Smart Dodd campaigned for the first Father’s Day celebration when she was inspired by a Mother’s Day church sermon. Sonora’s mother died in childbirth and it was her father who raised the baby and five other children playing the role of both Father and Mother. Sonora's campaign led to the first Father's Day celebration held in Spokane, Washington on the 19th of June, 1910 honoring the birth month of her father. Eventually, annual celebrations were held throughout the US and Canada. By 1924 the idea of a national Father's Day holiday had the support of President Calvin Coolidge, then in 1966 President Lyndon Johnson signed a presidential proclamation declaring the 3rd Sunday of June as Father's Day. However, it wasn't until 1972 that the holiday was recognized by the US Congress and President Richard Nixon signed it into law.

In an article by James McLoughlin written June 1998 he suggests father's spend Father's Day with their children exploring their children's interests.... go to their favorite places, do their favorite activities, play their games... Try cooking them their favorite meal, give them their baths, read them a story, put them to bed... He goes on to suggest...a Father's Weekend – spend one day doing your children's activities and the other day sharing your activities with them.

Some Father's Day reminders:

"It is a wise father that knows his own child." -- William Shakespeare

"It doesn't matter who my father was; it matters who I remember he was." -- Anne Sexton

"I cannot think of any need in childhood as strong as the need for a father's protection." -- Sigmund Freud

"If the new American father feels bewildered and even defeated, let him take comfort from the fact that whatever he does in any fathering situation has a fifty percent chance of being right." -- Bill Cosby

Jun 20, Monday. The three-day Solstice Window begins today and is exact tonight for the Pacific Time zone at 11:46 pm PDT. This means for those in the Eastern Time Zone it is already June 21 and the time is 2:46 am EDT. The exact Solstice window is three full days when the Sun Stands Still rising and setting farthest north (Summer Solstice) or south (Winter Solstice) on the horizon. However, the Sun is moving very slowly along the horizon for at least two weeks before and after the exact Solstice with very little visual difference so you can capture the essence of the experience before and after the exact day.

The Solstices and Equinoxes mark the four main annual seasonal gates. This is because our Sun is the central hub of our Celestial/Solar Timeclock consistently ticking off the seasons in a precise and rhythmic pattern from the Earth's perspective. These Solstice and Equinox points move one degree every 72 years backward through the constellations taking about 26,000 years to make one complete circuit through the ecliptic. Our current time finds these seasonal markers strategically aligned with the Galactic Poles (Equinoxes) and the Galactic Plane (Solstices) forming a giant celestial cross. Once every 6500 years the Solstices and Equinoxes align with these points synchronizing the Earth cross with the Celestial Cross. Currently the December Solstice is aligned near Galactic Center or the place the Mayans referred to as Hunab Ku, the giver of all movement and measure. The June Solstice is aligned with the opposite point or Galactic Anti-Center looking out into deep space. The March Equinox is aligned with the South Galactic Pole and the September Equinox is aligned with the North Galactic Pole. This alignment is one of several major indicators informing us that we are moving into a whole new space-time reality.

At this time it is safe to say these seasonal gateways are particularly powerful timings to witness and honor. Observing the Solstice Sunrise or Sunset with gratitude and appreciation for the unfolding Great Mystery is a great way to participate with this Timing. The June Solstice Sunrise naturally empowers us, piercing our senses, our bodies, and our hearts, with a light intelligence infusion coming directly from deep space via the alignment with the Sun along the Galactic Plane when we are open to receive this transmission. This year we have the added benefit of the Full Moon also transmitting light intelligence from the Galactic Core, or Hunab Ku. In fact tomorrow night June 21 is the fullest rise of the Moon with the Sun setting about 10 to 15 minutes before the Moon rise. This is a rare opportunity to receive a transmission from both Solstice points and the galactic plane via the Sun and the Moon. It is also interesting to note that the Moon is rising very near an exact 19 year Lunar Standstill. (Details about that another time but for now know this is a rare opportunity to experience both the Sun and the Moon at their extreme rising and setting points creating a possibility for empowered awakening beyond what we have previously imagined). Also worth noting is the Moon rising very near Antares the heart of the Scorpion about an hour before the Sun sets tonight. Antares won't be visible until after Sunset but the Moon will be visible rising over the South Eastern Horizon (See May 24 and Mar 2 and 3 2005 Celestial Timings Archives for info about Antares)

Jun 21, Tuesday. Still well within the central potency of the Solstice window the Moon conjuncts Pluto this morning rising at Galactic Center tonight. This suggests we are in a shamanic process of shedding and releasing old fear programs that have limited our fullest knowing and experience of who we truly are and simultaneously we are receiving transmissions for new awareness coming in from the Galactic Plane. Don't forget tonight the Sunsets about 10 minutes before the Moon rises depending on the Horizon line. This is definitely worth witnessing if you have a chance. (See Jun 20 for details) For those who enjoy visual images it might help to imagine a "Cross of Light" connecting the Heavens and the Earth through the Galactic Poles and the Galactic Plane. The Keys of Enoch tell us that crosses have been used through out human existence to "indicate the life-giving fusion of divine wisdom with the primal element of earth, taking place through the energy grids which are as 'tool's' for the transposing of energy into life." (page 306) This Timing is an activation way beyond ordinary reality and the quickening is happening as evidence by the extreme chaos so many are experiencing. This is similar to the physics principle called phase transition and the chaos that precedes particles shifting into a super fluid or super conductor state of coherence. This model suggests the extreme chaos so many are feeling is an indicator of the approaching harmonic shift already in process. It brings to mind the saying; "It is always darkest before the Dawn."

Jun 22, Wednesday. The Capricorn Moon operates with the awareness of how our actions effect the next seven generations and how we can contribute to the health and well being of our personal and collective environment. Today we have a remarkable line-up with the Sun having just moved into Cancer and Venus (23 Cancer) Mercury (21 Cancer) and Saturn (27 Cancer) gathered in council in this Solstice window where our everyday reality has been undergoing considerable transformation. Under the guidance of the nurturing Cancer influence and The Keys of Enoch...we are being called to "leave the Pyramids of the old order of consciousness...remove ourselves from the Pharaohs of the world...who keep the world in slavery to economic bondage without the capstone of light...so the living substance of consciousness within the blood is raised to the next ordering of evolution...the blood crystals are alive within creating the realignment or the reconnection with the divine within each of us. (page 135-6)

Jun 23, Thursday. The Moon is reaching its closest approach to Earth in the current Moon cycle known as perigee and is traveling through Aquarius reminding us of the Aquarian dispensation that says "all human beings should have the freedom to take responsibility for their own evolutionary path." (From The Shamanic Astrology Handbook) This is true even if we don't always understand someone else's path as long as they are doing no harm. This then is honoring the value and importance of all expressive forms including the differences between the masculine and feminine principles creating space for greater freedom of expression for all.

Jun 24, Friday. The Moon conjuncts Neptune increasing awareness around the illusions of our so-called rational reality. Movies like "The Matrix" "What The Bleep Do We Know" and "I Heart Huckbees" remind us that what we believe and experience as our reality is an illusion constructed from our beliefs. Allowing ourselves to imagine experiences beyond these beliefs is often difficult for those attached to a specific form of reality. When Neptunian influences blur the boundaries of belief structured reality we may find ourselves questioning what is real? We also might ask how we can consciously unplug from this limiting matrix of belief bound experience? Neptune encourages us to follow inner guidance bypassing logical and rational world distractions where we can genuinely connect with our inner divine knowing while also expanding our field of possibilities.

Jun 25, Saturday. Mars (Aries) is reaching opposition to Jupiter (Libra). The last time this occurred was Nov 20, 2003 just as Mars in Pisces was beginning his new quest. We are now near the end of that quest that began with the question "How can I help to heal? The Celestine Prophecy by James Redfield provides insight into answering this questioning by reminding us how important it is to be asking the questions that will serve to further our own life quest. ...You see, the problem in life isn't in receiving answers. The problem is in identifying your current questions. Once you get the questions right, the answers always come....Let your perception of beauty and iridescence lead your way. Places and people who have answers for you will appear more luminous and attractive. This timing suggests that if we are accessing the compassionate caring Pisces Mars quest now journeying through the Aries domain ready to take inspired decisive action toward furthering the cause of how to help and heal then the expansive Jupiter in Libra effect inspires further healing in our relationships with ourselves and others.

Today marks the triple conjunction of Venus Saturn and Mercury at 27 Cancer. (See Intro)

Jun 26, Sunday. Mercury exactly conjuncts Saturn (27 Cancer) located just past the boundary of the Sacred Hoop moving beyond the limiting beliefs that define the current culture's structural duality based reality. Mercury reminds Saturn that nothing is as real as it appears and only remains real to us as long as we believe it is real. When our beliefs change so do the structures of reality that support those beliefs. The Movie What the Bleep Do We Know acts as a messenger reminding us that we inform the mysteries of Saturn through what we believe. Today is another opportunity to co-create structures of reality that support and nurture who we really are especially if it does not correspond with what the current society has said we should be. Mercury moves fast and Saturn moves slow so it may take time for Mercury's message to find its new form through Saturn's structure.

Jun 27, Monday. Fiery energy abounds tonight with the Moon's move into Aries catching up to Mars (11 Aries) tomorrow and Venus and Mercury's move into Leo. Aries and Leo love to be the center of attention and when healthy are radiantly charismatic, independent, fun and inspiring. This line up also gives a sense of activation around the fire writing of ancient scriptures as described in The Keys of Enoch reminding us that our great cosmology is encoded directly into our DNA and out pictured in the fabric of our Earth through the many ancient astrophysical temples, petroglyph sites, standing stones and other cosmologically based sacred sites around the planet. Fire writing found in ancient scriptures also further activates these codes as does journeying to and spending time in ancient astronomical sites.

It is as if Venus and Mercury are paving the way for Saturn's entry into Leo after its five-year journey through the Sacred Hoop restructuring new forms that will govern this dimensional experience. The Keys speak of ...star grids that intersect to form cosms of time arcs which, in turn, can be used to change quantum events such as wars, destruction of species, etc. The use of these grids with various levels of mental vibration allow humanity to use the power of telethought communication in targeting information to global points within fractions of seconds...With this communication the psi grids of mental communication throughout the planet can be altered and new resonance patterns can be created to replace levels of negation. (page 309)

Jun 28, Tuesday. The Last quarter Moon (7 Aries) Moon is conjunct Mars suggesting it is time to take inspired decisive action toward any cause one feels committed to furthering. It might be the cause of improving your health, or making a difference in the environment in some way. Regardless of what it is - now is the time to act. When we consider this time at The Turning of the Ages and our planet's process of ascension and the messages from The Keys of Enoch that tell us Light radiations are filling our universe quickening our evolution, purifying and restructuring our world, changing the thresholds of vibration and experience, according to new programs of Light and Love then...we get a sense of the importance of taking action that supports our personal evolutionary process because this collective reprogram is happening with or without us.

Jun 29, Wednesday. Venus (2 Leo) and Mercury (2 Leo) start the day in opposition to the Shamanic Healer, Chiron (2 Aquarius). Chiron is now traveling through expanding realms of awareness in the Aquarian celestial domain encountering the Radiant and Shining Goddess Queen (Venus), and the transformational messenger (Mercury). Interestingly, The Keys of Enoch speak of our consciousness time zone existing between fields of luminaries sowing additional "Seeds of Light" into our fields of awareness and in the likeness and appearance of Fire, Man will understand "The Many and The One" where individual programs of luminaries or consciousness share a common spiritual purpose. (page 441) Therefore, today we have an opportunity to move beyond our current consciousness time zone expanding and purifying our awareness in ways that support our experience of the new individual and collective divine programs blissfully seeking expression through us now. This is not necessarily easy or difficult. Much depends on how attached we are to the old programs of limitation and pain and how willing we are to consciously embrace the new.

Jun 30, Thursday. The Moon's move into Taurus this morning slows the pace encouraging us to savor and enjoy each precious moment of life. Taking time to fully receive the joy and beauty of life helps to magnetize and attract more joy and beauty to us especially when we are coming from genuine heart-felt gratitude. Remember..."If the only prayer you ever said was 'Thank You', that would be enough!" ~Meister Eckhart
