

Vlogcast #5: Deciphering the Jupiter – Saturn Great Mutations: Is this the “Divine Conjunction?”

Daniel and Awen continue their discussion from Vlogcast #3 inquiring into the significance of the recent Jupiter Saturn conjunction in Aquarius. It is a Great Mutations, but is it a Magnificent Conjunction? A Divine Conjunction??

Hello everyone, This is Daniel Giamario, the co-founder of the Shamanic Astrology Mystery School and this is my monthly Vlogcast. I'm here today with the current, the NEW managing director of the Shamanic Astrology Mystery School, Awen, I like to call him, "AWEN Skywatcher," and he's gonna help me out today in our exploration.

The name of today's exploration is "Deciphering the Jupiter-Saturn Great Mutations," and asking the question, "Is this the Divine Conjunction?"

As we go through this, we'll be exploring these different issues. This is actually kind of a Part Two to what was done a few months ago, with the Vlogcast that was called "The Age of Aquarius, What Again?" So this is a Part Two to that. Now I consider it to be actually quite synchronistic, appropriate, amazing that we're choosing to do this very close to the exact FULL Moon. I'm here, where I am sitting outside of Metro Manila. It's already January 29th, for most of you listening it will be January 28th. and that's the FULL Moon. We have of the Leo-Aquarius Full Moon and it's so particularly amazing, in fact, maybe you can bring that chart up on Awen.

All right, today's chart, yeah, the fact that we're doing this conversation with the Sun conjunct Jupiter in Aquarius. Look, you can see HOW close Saturn still is, and the fact that the Moon then is, in that resonant polarity FULL Moon with the Aquarian configuration, and we can compare this situation today with what the chart of the Great Mutations itself was back in December. So this is basically just slightly more than a month later now, and here we are on December 21, 2020 and you can see the precise Jupiter-Saturn conjunction there at 0° 29" Aquarius. There's been many many different conversations about what the meaning of this is? One of the things we kind of featured a lot in the previous Vlogcast was the misconceptions that this the beginning of the Age of Aquarius, and that kind of thing, which I'm saying "NOT really." BUT it could actually be a much bigger thing, this so-called "Divine Conjunction." That the reason why, just if you want to go back and see the whole story about what I just said, that the previous Vlogcast we've linked to from the newsletter, that the reason WHY it's NOT the entrance into the Age of Aquarius is because that's a constellation, NOT a SIGN.

So we're actually going to be focusing a lot actually on the implication of the sign here and trying to place it into a larger context. Maybe the next thing we can go to here, Awen would be the definitions, those terms.

One of the things to understand about THIS Jupiter-Saturn conjunction is that before there was an awareness of Uranus, Neptune and Pluto, except for those people who knew about the Greater Age, The Great Age, the 26,000-year cycle. The primary way that the ancients tracked larger cycles was the repeated cycles of the Jupiter-Saturn conjunction. And in fact, the name they gave for it was "Great Chronocrater," a marker of time. And that was used for a greater world, global cycles. BUT it was also used a lot in the human lifespan. So the great importance of the age 59-to-60 time period, where there's a Jupiter return and a Saturn return that happens at the same time. So that was applied to human lifespan, BUT also to larger World Ages. Now the terms that I'm now sharing with you here, much of this was inspired by a book that I've had since 1977, called "The Astrological Secrets of the Hebrew Sages," by Rabbi Joel Dobin.

Awen: Here hold that up for everybody, Daniel.

Yes, in fact there'll be actually three books or sources of information that I'm going to be primarily accessing in our conversation today. Now, I'm certainly not saying that I subscribe to everything in this book, BUT HOW I came up with some rather interesting terminology, the definitions. So this term, "the Great Mutations," some people have been using that expression for something that happens about every 200 years, BUT the proper use of this name, "Great Mutations," is that after 60 Saturn-Jupiter conjunctions. Actually to say 800 years is to keep it simple, it's actually 794.4 – 60 Jupiter-Saturn conjunctions over time, will bring it back to its starting point, or very close to its starting point. So it's kind of like the synodic cycle of the whole Jupiter-Saturn process. So you could come up, relative to Jupiter and Saturn and the Great Mutations, you could think of it as an 800-Year Age, relative to the Great Chronocrater.

Now there's also these other terminologies that can be applied to the Jupiter-Saturn conjunctions. There is something referred to as the "Great Conjunction," and this is the one that sometimes people confuse with the “Great Mutations.” The Great Conjunction indicating a change in elemental triplicities about every 200 years. And we'll see illustrations of this as we go through our conversation today.

Then there's this...this was called the “Divine Conjunction,” or the “Conjunction of Power,” and that's part of our inquiry here today. And this represents the beginning of the entire “Great Year.” There is a way of seeing HOW a Jupiter-Saturn conjunction can be an indicator of the beginning or the end in the beginning of a 26,000-year cycle processional cycle. And then, they had this understanding of something called a “Magnificent Conjunction,” which was the conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn, marking the beginning of each Astrological Age, which would be like 1/12th of the Great year. And so we'll see HOW there have been understandings of that with reference to the Jupiter-Saturn conjunction.

So, I wanted you to know these phrases as we go through, and since our inquiry today deciphering the Great Mutations and asking the question, “Is this in fact, the Divine Conjunction, which marks the beginning of a Great Year?” I'm actually going to suggest that there's also some misunderstandings about this as far as whether it's the beginning of each astrological age, but we'll see we'll look into that relative to Jupiter-Saturn.

Awen: All right, just to clarify real quickly, the Divine Conjunction is a Magnificent Conjunction, BUT not every Magnificent Conjunction is a Divine Conjunction, is that right?

DG Yes that's right. Yeah right, and a fascinating thing about this and particularly when we look at the next slide is that there have been some people in esoteric traditions starting with the alleged discovery by Hipparchus, of the Processional Cycle, but it's not always been clear just HOW long it was. As a matter of fact, Hipparchus himself who's given credit for discovering it – that's a whole other story that's quite fascinating – He didn't think it was the 26,000-year cycle. He thought it was an oscillation, it would go forward and then would go backward, it would go forward, it would go backward. The Neo-Platonists then started thinking about it from the perspective of the Great Year, but even as late as the late 1800s there were many who believed that the dates, the time frame on it was 24,000 years, not 25,920, which is the current figure given by astronomers.

Actually, Sri Yukeswar who's often referenced regarding the Yugas, which we'll see in a moment, he uses 24,000. Well that's what they thought at that time period, but we now know it's 25,920. So let's go to the Yuga slide. This has gone into some depth in some previous workshops and talks. I use some more recent research on the Yugas that was put out I think in 2012-2013. I will make a reference, we'll have that included as one of the resources for this Vlogcast, that shows HOW the different Yugas correspond with the Processional Cycle. And there's a way they line up, but the bottom line, the reason I'm bringing this up right now, is because we have to somehow place the Great Mutations within a larger context because we can now do that. Although for long periods of time, the ancients could only see the larger context of the Jupiter-Saturn cycle. But we're trying to place the Jupiter-Saturn Great Mutations within this 26000 – 25,920-year processional cycle, which can actually be lined up with the Yugas. And one of the things that has become clear is that we are at the point where the Kali Yuga is bottoming out, so this is the time period in the Yuga cycles of the greatest devolution, actually of what is taking place. You can see the dates, thank you for pointing that out there, yeah where we would have the beginning of the descending Kali Yuga 3676BC, and then the ascending Kali Yuga 676 BC, and then the end of that is 2025, coming up. And then, there's a 300-year transitional period. And then it goes into the Bronze Age, after that the ascending next Yuga, it's beyond the scope of our inquiry right now. We went into it in more depth in some previous workshops but it's, to be able to see HOW these larger cycles can interact with each other. So our query now is HOW does the Jupiter-Saturn Great Mutations fit into this, if at all?

So that's our question right now. So the bigger story matters. Okay and that goes into factors at the Age of Aquarius, is it a Divine Conjunction? It is simply a Magnificent Conjunction and what does that mean? So maybe the next thing Awen is let's go to that Kelly Phipps, larger Yeah this map mapping. So the second main source for this material is an absolutely remarkable research, as far as I know it's not a book, but you can get it from his website. Kelly Phipps put out in 2011, an amazing bit of research called, "The Elemental Wave Chronicles," the Jupiter-Saturn cycle. Sadly, Kelly Phipps passed away a few years after that, but he did magnificent research on a lot of different areas and his work contributed a great deal to sparking my deeper dive into an understanding of this.

Now, as the general tradition had been and has been both from Kepler, who talked about the Great Mutations a lot, and even Christianity up until the 1600s, talked a great deal about that, and Hebrew Sages and Christianity about the Great Mutations of Jupiter and Saturn. And what Kelley did is he took an understanding of the Jupiter-Saturn process, the different Great Mutations, and the different Great Conjunctions, all the way back to 3203 BC. Now he started it with fire and as I said, that's the Christian tradition was like wanting to do that also. And he notices that 32, around that time period, 3000 BC, many world calendars started around that time period. The Spring Equinox or the March Equinox calendar started around that time period. The Mayan Long-Count started around that time period. That was actually when the Vernal Equinox was during that time frame was with Aldebaran or with the Pleiades, a very important configurations from an astronomy perspective.

So that's why it starts with fire here, but one of the geniuses of his extensive research is to show the intermediate time periods, because, please understand that when you're using signs, which is a 30° segment, that it's not always so elegant. IF you have something like 1° or a 29°, it's hard to get the most elegant pattern in a row. So he's come up with these Intermediates. So like there's a long period where it's all fire, meaning that Jupiter and Saturn conjunctions are always in fire, and then, there's a time period where it goes briefly into earth, and then back to fire. So it's kind of an in-between fire-and-earth time, and then it would from earth, and then earth, air and earth, air to air, air to air, water, air, water to water, and then water to water, fire. So you have these in-between zones where the Jupiter-Saturn Great Conjunctions will jump around. The conjunctions within the 200-year time period are not always going to be in the same element, but there's an interesting pattern that you can see, particularly with this much-larger framework I think. So what our project here is that is to get us to a deeper understanding of the one we're in now, but we're trying to get a larger context on this.

So because the Kepler tradition and the Christian tradition was to think it's supposed to start with fire, let us take a look here now, at an extremely important time period which is around the time period of the birth of Christ. So this is going to be a time period of water, water to fire into fire. So the Hebrew sages and we could say, the magi and the different astronomical and astrological traditions that existed at that time period, who were putting a lot of their attention on Jupiter and Saturn, were very much focused on this. And they placed a huge amount of attention on the Jupiter-Saturn conjunction at 7BCE at 21° Pisces And they probably, at that point thought that that was the well that was certainly considered to be a “Magnificent Conjunction,” and if you look at the sequence that follows, then we have one at 5° Sagittarius, 19° Leo, meaning from the one at 7BC, everything after that, for a long period of time is all fire.

Now you see this one 54CE 29° Pisces , no doubt that was part of the fire sequence. If so, it's that whole thing of if you're a very end of a 30° thing or the very beginning of a 30° zone, you could be confused by that. Okay, so I'm pretty sure that Hebrew sages would have thought, “Okay this is, the Great Mutation, is from this one and so this will be somewhere after the 7BCE. One, there would be the beginning of a new age and then of course, they put that together with a messiah and there's a lot of them. Apocalyptic stuff that was happening at that point. All the stuff you'd expect around the time of the beginning of a new age and that was basically also associated with all the fish imagery, so we'd have water. Water wave, water to fire, and then a whole new age begins with the fire wave. Now the Kepler and Christians thought that this whole new age thing would happen again in the 1600s, when there was another beginning of a fire wave. And in fact, I was reading some documentation on this, that one of the reasons why the Catholic church and Christianity in general started being very negative toward astrology, is because their calculations about the Great Mutations into fire differed from those of Kepler's. So they did not like Kepler's. So they decided to throw out astrology as something bogus, I guess maybe because he had a lot of influence. So is it really about a fire wave. Is that really or a larger question you know is this: The Divine one, is the one that is actually the one that starts a new age? And then HOW does that relate to the beginning? Is it a Divine Conjunction? Is it the end in the beginning of the whole thing that we've already discussed? That because THIS is about signs NOT constellations, it cannot be used into that kind of deception about the Age of Aquarius, making the Age of Aquarius be about the sign, WHEN it's actually a constellation. BUT it could really be important relative to the sign, BUT is it as important as they're trying to make it sound?

This is part of our question and amazingly enough, if you've been following along with us, my sense is it really is important as we're going to see. So maybe, maybe it's not about fire at all, maybe it's about something else.

Now let's go back Awen, let's look at the time period of the 577 BC.

So here we have earth wave, going into earth, air going into air, and if you look at the 582 point to the 583, 563 point something really remarkable is happening from a larger context then, what was happening ... and you go ahead and maybe put the chart up for that... This may not be the absolute precise closest date, BUT this is certainly close enough to illustrate what we're bringing out here, one of the rarest of all the planetary combinations is Pluto-Uranus-Neptune together, but you'll see here Saturn does have an involvement here IF you see, opposite Saturn.

Dane Rudhyar and other astrologers placed a tremendous importance to this time period and there is NOT another combo of Pluto, Uranus and Neptune until I think 2700, it says it doesn't happen very often at all. Maybe if you take this in, see here we have something really rare, it's not happened in and since then, and won't happen again for another 600 years. I think that's accurate, 2700 somewhere in there. So bring up that other slide of the luminary people right okay.

Amazing historical people from an earlier earth to air, the Uranus– Neptune– Pluto stellium, Look at all of them:

Pythagoras

Lao tzu

Heraclitus

Zarathustras zoroaster

Herodotus (who is the beginning of modern historian approach)

Socrates to Pluto

to Aristotle

Chuan-tzu, in China one of the Great Taoist initiators and

the Buddha

All happening in THIS time period.

And it wasn't too long after that that we had in fact Hyparkas in the Greek discovery of the now what Rudhyar felt and the one of my other sources and I'll just illustrate this right now, HOW was the foundation of my whole practice is this book called, "The Planetarization of Consciousness," I have my signed copy, I love this about that book. Anyway in The Planetarization of Consciousness and it's kind of the foundation of Rudhyar's work, he believed that the movement of humanity could be illustrated by using a dialectic approach So up until this time period, of this Jupiter-Saturn conjunction, earth to earth, air to air wave, which was highlighted by this remarkable Uranus, Neptune, Pluto conjunction, up until this time period, global humanity was primarily triumphed tribal. Certainly it had hierarchy in there, but the emphasis was not on individual enlightenment, individual consciousness. So that whole list during that time period was bringing in from a spiritual-perspective individual-enlightenment. Also from a philosophical perspective, individual inquiry, Greek rationalism. It also interestingly corresponded to the time period where the very first individual personal horoscopes started.

And so, we have then, according to Rudhyar, at that point we would have the antithesis to tribal-clan collective consciousness, and a shift toward individual consciousness, where the personal horoscope, the personal self, became important. He describes in The Planetarization of Consciousness that we need to have a synthesis, kind of a reintegration of the individual back into global awareness. So that's not just global humanity, BUT it includes the noosphere, includes everything about the living earth. human consciousness, individual human consciousness, reconnecting with the entire earth and this field and global humanity. So it's a re-tribalization, but also with human, individual sovereignty associated with that. Now I think this is associated with the great thing that's happening now.

So what I'm trying to bring out here is it's very possible that more important than the fire Great Mutations is this earth-to-air time period, and that's illustrated the big deal that was happening in those years we're just looking at now.

So Awen, the next thing, let's look at would be the earth-to-air time period following this. Remember, we're looking at roughly 800-year time periods, the exact being 794, sixty Jupiter-Saturn conjunctions bringing them back to the starting point. So there's an earth wave 253 to 312. Then there's this time period where it jumps back and forth as it's going from earth to air, and you'll notice that HOW they might have thought that it already went fire into air in 431, 29° Capricorn, and then you have a whole Saturn and there's always at least six of them, sometimes as many as eight in any of the 200-year time periods, when the Jupiter-Saturn conjunction is in the same sign. And so here we have the earth wave and it's kind of mixed together with earth-air and then the airwave. Now what to me is tremendously significant, there's so much about you can study about history regarding this. In fact, the Phipps work is mind-blowing as far as his grasp of this whole thing historically, I can't say I agree with every one of his interpretations of it, but he brings pretty much the whole thing in. But one of the things that captured my attention about that time period and as you inquire into this, and maybe you can use this as a something those you who are interested in this can work with this as a research document, is that what happened, right in between the earth wave to earth-air, in that time frame we have the King Constantine, Emperor Constantine who lived from 306 to 337. He converted to christianity in 312. Interestingly, and the Nicene Creed happened in 325 and that consolidated the bible and turned christianity into the state religion. So now, could that be considered "to be a good thing." I mean I guess it depends on whether you believe in the Nicene Creed. If you believe this should be a state religion, but so that was all happening in the earth-to-air wave. I should interject here at this time, that part of our inquiry is going to lead us up to the time we're in now?

Is Pluto in Aquarius?

Now, Pluto was actually in Aquarius from 305 to 329. So Pluto in Aquarius corresponded to this timeframe that we're looking at, the end of earth, earth-air. So just keep that in mind, Pluto in Aquarius for a moment. So now, let's jump ahead to the next one.

Again now here we have Jupiter-Saturn conjunctions in earth, earth-air, air. About 800-years later, we have the next time frame, that was called "the Great Mutations," relative to these elements. You see not relative to fire, the relative to the earth to air. Now this time period is loaded with amazing stuff also, and I want to indicate here that Pluto was actually in Aquarius from 1286 to 1308. So people have become aware of this 1226 date, that you can see over there at 4° Aquarius. This is the one that many astrologers have been pointing to, which was the last time that Jupiter and Saturn were so close and were easily visible. So it's easy to go back from the current Great Mutations back to this time period here, keeping in mind the Pluto in Aquarius involved in this time period. One of the things that certainly had upon first glance, an aquarian flavor to that time was what was called the Magna Carta, and the Magna Carta first came in in 1215. So 1215, was happening right there at the end of earth-air going into air.

All right, this has been idealized as the revolt against the the privilege of the royals. It's kind of a revolt against the Crown. However, although it has been idealized then, it did influence things like the American Revolution and so on. It actually had very little to do with common people, it had little to do with the surfs, or the proletariat, or whatever word you want to use for it. It was actually an attempt of the nobles to be equal to the Crown, to give the other levels of privilege equal rights to the Crown. Although that some of the principles in it have been used for other reasons, it's fascinating that it was in 1297, within the Pluto time period in Aquarius, that the Crown took back the power, and essentially nullified most of the stuff in the Magna Carta.

So it's kind of like “all right, there was these idealistic Aquarian, egalitarian things that came through, BUT then, Pluto in Aquarius, and you've got the shadow of what can happen with top-down control, or like the elites still running things, or the consolidation of power – ‘the downside of collectivism,’ is the way I could put it.

All right, now certainly that's what happened with the Nicene Creed and establishment of a state religion. By the time of the abolition of the rights of men through the nullification of most of the stuff in the Magna Carta, we have the royalty once again reestablishing their power. So before we move on to the current time period, just get a sense of HOW this works, because seeing the larger picture on it is not so easy. I've noticed that many of the writers that have talked about the Jupiter-Saturn conjunction, they just make these lists of the previous times that Jupiter and Saturn were conjunct in Aquarius. Well that's interesting, but that does not connect into the actual Great Mutations itself, where you basically see the sequence of HOW this works. About how you would have the waves shifting from one element to the next, you have the in-between zone and then you can see how many times. Like if you look at that earth wave, six over here from 1047 to 1166. That's one that's like seven earths in a row, and they might even have thought that, “Well, this ism see what happened is that in 1206, there's another earth, that's WHY you have that in between earth-air, and then it goes into air. So, and we see there's only four here at this point. That's probably because there was a lot of overlap... the beginning or the end of the sign. So just to take that in, as far as how this is operating. And what I'm bringing forth here, is that maybe the more important for humanity, Great Mutations is earth-to-air, rather than water to fire. it's just just a thought. Because remember, our larger inquiry here is “Could it be said that any of these conjunctions within a Great Mutations are the beginning of the entire Great Year?”

Let's jump ahead to our current time frame. Notice on the left, we have seven consecutive Jupiter-Saturn conjunctions in earth, the beginning of earth wave. Seven, I mean I'm using the number zero that Kelly Phipps came up with, where he began the different waves back at about 3600 BC with a fire-wave. And so, since that time period, this would be the seventh earth-wave beginning 1842, as you see. One of the great, I guess I wouldn't say, “mistakes,” just not knowing the whole story I guess, is that the writers of this book that I illustrated, “Astrological Secrets of the Hebrew Sages,? written in 1977, they thought the Great Mutations was 1981, which was the first one into air, you know the shift from earth to air. As we now know, as we look back on it, is that in the year 2000, the Jupiter-Saturn conjunction was in earth, and this is what generally happens WHEN you go from one element to the next, there's an in-between zone, which is like a hybrid. So you have an air one here showing up and then you go back to earth. So these guys who wrote that book said, “Oh the beginning of the Age of Aquarius relative to the sign would be 1981,” but as we now know, the full movement into an entire air-wave at number seven – What just happened just happened in December – and that was the one Aquarius. Zero something Aquarius, that happened at the December Solstice 2020. And now we have coming up in front of us seven air Jupiter-Saturn conjunctions, before it shifts in to the next element. And it's always moving through the elements in the order of the signs. So you go from earth to air, air to water, water to fire, fire to earth, earth to air. It just keeps moving forward like that.

Maybe okay, it takes a while to actually become comfortable with how this is operating, and we will be including as part of this Vlogcast, the resources. So you can actually, if you want to get for yourself the Kelly Phipps document, you can get it off his posthumous website, and it's really worth looking at historically.

Maybe next, let's look at the Pluto into Aquarius part.

So, we started it at 674BC, the one to wrap your head around really a lot is the 430BC to 404BC. And then, we can correspond that with actually the one before obviously also, because that whole time period we were looking at before the 577, when Uranus in between these two, is when the Uranus, Neptune and Pluto stellium was happening. But this is a time of immense change, I think in general, this would be thought of as the time where that antithesis to clan, tribal consciousness was happening as we discussed before. But, if we weave the Pluto entering Aquarius into that time period, as far as it's very possible, that it's even then that the seeds of the shadow of Aquarius went in. In other words, it would be like too much rationalism, too much separation from nature. In other words, losing something through the antithesis. When there was clan and tribal consciousness, it was always also more animistic, it was more connected to the earth, more connected to our organic reality as being part of creation. I think the seeds of the Shadow of Aquarius were also seeded at this time period. Separating, too much emphasis on the individual. This of course just kept getting more and more extreme as we went through the next millennium: Descartes and the Age of Enlightenment, rationalism, English Empiricism and all the rest of that, where the desire to detach, and be separate from the creation, came in. And certainly that tendency was already there with some of the Greek thinkers. There's a mixture of things.

I'm not being critical of the antithesis, just the shadow of it, the antithesis is good. We needed to have the development of sovereignty, autonomy and individual consciousness. And now we're at the point of, how do we reintegrate it into the planetarization of consciousness?

So we have here as a resource, the other time periods when Pluto has entered into Aquarius, and I had illustrated before how the Pluto was in Aquarius in that time period from 305 to 329, and Constantine and the Nicean Creed and state religion.

And then you can jump ahead to the one that also corresponded to a Great Mutations in earth to air, which was 1286 to 1308... and then that takes us forward to what's coming up. Look at those dates March 23rd 2023 to August 31st 2043.

Just when you thought the fun was all over, we made it. It's the Great Mutations, it's the Great Awakening right? Well, I mean that might be part of it, but we can't leave out this part.

We might want to next bring up the chart of the U.S. I use the rectification of the Declaration of Independence chart as rectified by Dane Rudhyar, the one that gives the 13° 10' Sag Rising. I think you can make a case for a number of different U.S. charts, but I think this is the one that most shows the original chart of the intention of the Founders, where we have the Moon at 27° 27" Aquarius. Now we have the South Node is 6° Aquarius. Saturn, you'll remember, we put up the chart of the current time right now, and oh my gosh, I mean today we have Saturn very close to the South Node of the U.S. Jupiter has just crossed over the South Node of the U.S. The Moon is on the North Node. So we have a lot of activation through the Jupiter-Saturn Great Mutations to important parts of the U.S. chart.

However, 2022–2023 is also the time, look at the Pluto position of the U.S. Pluto with 27° Capricorn. So we actually have the Pluto Return of a country, at the 248, 249th 250th time period. So it's the general range, but 2020 actually, there's some astrologers, and I'm sympathetic to this view, that the larger range of the Pluto Return of the U.S. actually is 2021. It actually starts when Pluto makes it up to, it makes it up this year. Do you remember Awen? I think the Pluto goes as far as this year in 2021, it actually goes all the way up to 26° 48". That's WHY some astrologers including, and as I said, I'm quite sympathetic to this view, transiting Pluto comes within less than a degree of the natal Pluto position. So I think we do have to take seriously plutonian realities, while just a reminder to everyone here that the Shamanic Astrology approach is a three-worlds approach. So we like to look at the celestial version of it, of what's happening, the universe is unfolding as it should. All is well on some levels, in some ways there is a Great Awakening and all, and actually from the perspective of who we really are, kind of doesn't matter what happens here. I mean the self is empty anyway.

Then the Middle world is looking honestly, realistically what is taking place, even a willingness to see things we don't want to see.

And then the third approach is the Underworld approach I think that most everyone can agree there's a great deal of a need to compost a lot of what has gotten us to this point. We do have to take seriously that it is the bottoming out of the Kali Yuga, that it is the end and the beginning of the whole 26,000 year cycle.

As I like to say, that the Global Events happening in 2020 and 2021 are the most astoundingly, overwhelmingly, extraordinary series of events to global humanity in at least 12,900 years. We discussed that in other seminars and other approaches.

So this is pretty big deal. But, WHAT if this Great Mutations earth-to-air highlighted by the Jupiter-Saturn conjunction in Aquarius, is in fact the Divine Conjunction? And that we would have the Divine Conjunction happening right at the point where the Kali Yuga is bottoming out, right at the time period of the Pluto return of the U.S. I think it's a question worth asking.

And right IN the window of the Turning of the Ages of course,

Yes, so it's like that's why we've investigated HOW the Yuga cycles as we now understand them, correspond with the Processional cycle, when the Golden Ages were and when the Kali Yugas were,

¿Where does the Yugo material come from, where is its source in indian history?

We'll include that also as a resource. So it comes from a guy in India who is researching this that presented a very long, well-researched paper that showed up on Graham Hancock's website. And it showed up in other places there were articles about it in Nexus magazine and in other places. It's a little different than some of the other more popular understandings of it. I forget his name right now, but it will be it will be in the resources. He perceives the four different Yugas as being the same length with a 300-year time period in between and he has a lot of documentation to demonstrate why that's the case and it fits so elegantly into how we understand the processional cycle. The fact that he would say in his research that the Kali Yuga is bottoming out and beginning to start ascending again in 2025, corresponds so brilliantly with the contention of the Shamanic Astrology Mystery School that the Great Turning, the end and the beginning of the entire processional cycle is in the zone from 1962 until 2032.

So we're right in the middle of the Great Turning and so, I guess what I'm proposing among all the remarkable things happening from 1962 to 2034, that it very well be IF we're taking seriously the Great Mutations, from the Great Chronocrater now, from this way of looking at visible planets to perceive where we are in greater world cycles, it could very well be that this is in fact the Divine Conjunction also called the "Conjunction of Power." It's the end of the beginning of the whole thing and to actually say, "Oh it's the beginning of the Age of Aquarius is thinking too small. It's like, Is a month more important than the Great Year? No, I don't think so, and besides, it's the constellation anyway. Now that this brings up something I'm going to just throw out as an inspiration or for further research. It's certainly one that i'm going to be looking into over the years.

IF the '60s Jupiter-Saturn conjunctions creating one synodic cycle of their connection, bringing them back to the starting pointm that's based on the signs. But there are also some traditions that would suggest that it's worth looking at this from the perspective of the sidereal. That is WHAT STARS are these Great Mutations bringing us back to? So for example, this one the Great Mutations, which I'm suggesting may be the "Divine Conjunction," there at the first degree of Aquarius just happens to be at this time in history, the star Altair it's in alignment with Altair, which is now at 1° Aquarius. So that's just something else worth looking at. I have not taken this that far. And also, something maybe you and I might work on together Awen over the years. To take this understanding of the Great Mutations, element-by-element back to 4000BC 5000BC or however far back we can take it. And maybe WHAT would happen if you took it all the way back to 26,920 years ago?

If we can do that, and see what Jupiter-Saturn thing was happening at that point, that could be quite intriguing, to follow up on it that way. But based on what I've just been sharing here, while I was dissing the idea of the Age of Aquarius, I even went so far to say, it's the hijacking of the Age of Aquarius by the sign, that's NOT to say that this Great Mutations doesn't have super importance in a larger sense of the Great Age, the Great Year the 25,920 year time frame. And certainly that's why, I was suggesting going back to that those points on 600BC and 300BC, and then at 400 and 800, And last but not least, remembering that Aquarius is not just all lollipops and roses and unicorns. In fact, I think it was you who pointed out to me one of the really idealistic things that was happening in that time period of 400, 500BC, that was in a much deeper . . . if we did a whole workshop on this. I mean we can balance it out, like the Magna Carta has an idealistic side and a shadow side. I brought up the shadow side of state religion and Constantine, and Roman Empire, and Nicene Creed, but you pointed out so beautifully that's also the time period of Arthur and the Round Table, and Merlin. Arthur and the Round Table, which is a theme very near to our hearts within the Shamanic Astrology Mystery School.

And just as also the time period of the Uranus, Neptune, Pluto configuration has that phenomenal contribution of individual enlightenment, the development of other ways of understanding consciousness. But it also had a dark side of which we see the results of today – extreme technocracy, extreme misuse of science, extreme ways of even the desire to turn humans into machines. I mean that's certainly the dark side of Aquarius, and certainly the fact that Pluto is soon to move into Aquarius, we can't lose sight of that, yeah. So I think we're approaching the end of our inquiry here today. Do you have any any any insights and intuition that's coming forth?

A-I love that we're inquiring here, not suggesting that this is any kind of special miraculous event that just occurred or that is still in the process of occurring. But I think you've pretty successfully pointed out that even if it's not the most amazing or uh remarkable point it's pretty darn remarkable, no matter how you cut it. So I would just be curious, what your thoughts are on HOW we might at the very least, HOW we might work with this, even if it were the very least of significant massively significant events?

Well it's always the three-world approach right, and it's also just to keep in mind that there is a phenomenal idealism about the sign of Aquarius. It does stand for uniqueness, individuality and freedom egalitarian ideals. That's all very Saturn, part of what that's about, but we have to always remember Saturn in Aquarius and soon, Pluto in Aquarius is the other side of it.

In fact, we have to remember that the ancients saw Saturn as being the co-ruler of Aquarius. So it's not all our revolutionary ideals of Uranus in Aquarius and these themes also show up. And it's beyond the scope of our conversation today, in 2021, it's that triple square of Uranus and Saturn. So you have Saturn in Aquarius, and Uranus in Taurus.

So it's just to stay awake, and remember ALL these three-worlds approach and that because of the location of this within the greater context of the Turning of the Ages, the Great Year, and where we are in the Kali Yuga cycles, to realize that what's happening is NOT just some ordinary thing. It is truly extraordinary. Just HOW extraordinary, we'll find out. I mean it could be anything from, “A whole new world, a tremendous Great Awakening. Look, the expression of every ideal that the Aquarian Revolutionaries always had, to the Sixth Mass Extinction and the composting of everything,” It's like all of it is on the table

Right, it's almost like a new year celebration. Celebrate this new year's coming and hope for good tidings, and set your intentions for great things and they may or may not come to fruition, but yeah THIS is the time to set those intentions. right Well we're definitely yeah set the intentions, be co-creating with Great Mystery certainly one of the factors that is quite hopeful is HOW many people realize that we're breaking the godspell.

Coming into a place where we know we are making a contribution to Great Mystery. We're not at the effect of some overlord or some hierarchy or some state, whether it's a king or the state, we're free beings. More and more people are awakening to that and we can visualize the kind of world we want. But it should be out of freedom. I mean if somebody wants to be part computer, they should have the right to do that. i mean if a person wants to take vaccines, but more you know, go ahead but don't force me to. So we really need to have that kind of freedom available and not to collapse ourselves into fake unity or the kind of a collective statism, or the belief in the savior, or some great king who's going to save us right. So that's where

I see the Great Awakening, but we can't be polarized about it, being realistic, looking at it with honesty. Bringing out the truth of what is actually happening is an exercise in awareness. If you're afraid to look at that then you're just splitting off. So, hopefully, that is exploring your question.

Yeah for sure, and I love that Aquarius is a self-interest sign. So it kind of reminds us that it requires a little bit of that self-discipline and personal input, it's not just to stand around and let others make the decisions for you. kind of sign.

DG- Otherwise it becomes the tyranny of the majority, which is part of the shadow side of Aquarius. Anyways, that one, the belief blindly in democracy, it can be a problem. I have this great quote that i ran into which might be a good way for us to close our conversations.

A great quote from Mark Twain, “If ever you find yourself on the side of the majority, it's time to rethink your position.”

And that to me that's an Aquarian ideal, anyways that might be a good way for us to complete. Thank you for helping out so much on this Awen, I'm so much a old-timer that my capacities with technology are limited, so i appreciate the help you've given me on this and you're expanding inquiring mind also. So we'll talk again soon.

All right. We all appreciate all the research you've done into this, so thank you.

DG- Until next time, next month
okay thanks, bye everyone
